House of Representatives
Room 2435
Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Congressman Rose:

Thank you for accepting our invitation to speak at the annual conference of the Office of Data Processing. Many of us, especially those in the computer field, have had the opportunity to hear you speak at other conferences and are looking forward to having you here at CIA. I believe you are in a unique position to give us a Congressional view of the use of computers in CIA and the Intelligence Community. I have taken the liberty of listing your talk on our agenda as

"The Intelligence Community's Use of Computers - A Congressional View."

It is scheduled from 1:00 p.m. to 1:45 p.m. on 9 May in our main auditorium adjacent to our Headquarters Building in Langley, Virginia.

By way of background, this is our third annual conference. The audience will include all levels of data processing personnel, from data transcribers and computer operators through senior systems analysts and data processing managers. We have also invited managers and computer users from other CIA offices. I am sure that the audience would appreciate the opportunity to ask questions, if you have time. I have asked the Director of the Community's Information Resources Office, [redacted] to introduce you to the audience. All those present will hold clearances for material classified through Top Secret.

Frank Carlucci is pleased that you can join us for lunch in the DCI's Dining Room at noon. We have also invited CIA's Comptroller, Jim Taylor; Legislative Counsel, Fred Hitz; Associate Deputy Director for Administration (and my predecessor), Danny May; my Deputy, [redacted]; and [redacted]

STAT

I will meet you and your Staff Director, Dick Giza, at the main entrance at 11:45 a.m. and escort you to the DCI's Dining Room.

If there is anything we can do to make your visit more pleasant, please let me or my Executive Officer, [] know. We can be reached on [] Once again, thank you for joining us. We are looking forward to your visit.
